

AID FOR THE CUBANS

Another Big Filibustering Expedition Successfully Landed.

THE LARGEST SO FAR SENT OUT

Remington Rifles, Revolvers, Rapid-fire Guns, Ammunition, Dynamite, Provisions and Medicine Landed—U. S. A. Officer's Son with Expedition.

New York, June 4.—The Cuban junta has received official information that another large filibustering expedition had landed safely on Cuban soil. Rafael Portuondo y Tamayo, secretary of state of the Cuban provisional government, was the leader of the expedition. It is generally believed that the expedition was landed by the steamer Three Friends, which left Florida about ten days ago. The filibuster landed sixty-eight men, one of whom is J. F. Cook, son of Major-General Cook of the United States army, who went with the expedition as an artilleryman. Doctors J. Garcia Vieta and Eduardo C. Poye constituted the sanitary corps. The following large cargo was also landed by the vessel and taken into the interior by a force of insurgents, who met the expedition on its arrival: Eight hundred and seventy-five Remington rifles, 50 Mauser rifles, 24 cases of Colt revolvers, 7 cases of Smith & Wesson revolvers, 2 Hotchkiss rapid-fire guns, 340 cannon balls, 240 shells, 499,000 cartridges of .42-calibre, 50,000 Mauser cartridges, 1,000 machetes, 2,000 pounds of dynamite, 2,000 fuses, 1,000,000 caps for cartridges, 2 electric batteries, 1,000 feet of wire sets of reloading tools and a telephone. Besides this supply of munitions the expedition carried also large quantities of provisions, medicines and bandages, and a wire tapping apparatus, which will be operated by Narciso Lopez, a telegrapher, who was a member of the expedition. The news also received at Washington.

Washington, June 4.—Gonzalo de Quesada, the Cuban charge d'affaires in this city, has just received word that Col. Rafael Portuondo has landed safely in Cuba. He was accompanied by 100 men, among whom were Dr. Carlos Poye, surgeon of the party, a resident of this city, and two young Baltimoreans, Osman Latrobe, nephew of ex-Major Latrobe, and Mr. Janney. The cargo consisted of thousands of rifles, cartridges and dynamite, besides artillery, of which the army is in need. It is the largest landing made. Col. Portuondo is the secretary of state. He came to this country on leave of absence, and attended the debates in congress. He belongs to the bluest blood of the island, and is a lawyer of distinction.

BIG REBEL VICTORIES PROBABLE

Spaniards Admit Slight Repulse Which Is Believed To Indicate Serious Defeat.

Havana, June 4.—Advices from Baracoa report that engagements have recently taken place between Spanish forces and bands of rebels on the banks of the Duaba river. Owing to the heavy rains which have fallen lately the river was greatly swollen and its crossings rendered difficult. An attempt was made, however, by a Spanish column to reach the other side, but the troops were attacked by insurgents with the result that one soldier was killed and two were wounded. The rebel loss is put at twenty-four, but is believed to be greater. Continuing their march along the river, the Spaniards on May 27 again attempted to cross, this time by the ford at Buenavista, but they were again attacked and Major Gonzalez Moro and eight soldiers were wounded and perished in the river, being unable to regain the shore they had left, while a captain, a sergeant and two privates were wounded, but succeeded in reaching the river bank. Orders have been given for reinforcements to be sent to the column by boats, but this will be difficult of execution, owing to the condition of the rivers. A force of rebels made an attack upon Candelaria, but they were repulsed and compelled to retire. The above account of the engagements was given out by the Spanish press censor, and the mere fact of the admission of a slight government repulse is considered here as indicating that the Spanish troops met with crushing defeat.

Laurada Passed at Sea.

Boston, June 4.—Advices received in this city from Baltimore state that the fruit steamer Bowden, owned by the Boston Fruit company, which arrived at Baltimore Monday from Port Antonio, had passed near Watling's island the alleged filibustering steamer Laurada.

ST. LOUIS STORM SUFFERERS.

A Fund To Be Raised To Aid Persons Who Lost Their Homes.

St. Louis, June 4.—A movement has been started to raise a fund of $250,000 or more to aid those who lost their homes to rebuild them. At the first meeting, an impromptu one, held at the Noonday club, $45,000 was contributed by prominent business men, and this will be increased. It is proposed to loan tornado sufferers money on second mortgages. S. D. Webster, general claim agent of the Terminal Railroad association, announces that the upper roadway of the Eads bridge has been completed so as to admit the passage of foot-passengers. The roadway was torn up a distance of 550 feet. Part of the debris was piled on the railroad tracks, and all the next day after the storm was occupied in clearing away the wreckage. When this was finished the trains were allowed to cross. The work of erecting a temporary roadway and supports was commenced. This has been carried on steadily ever since, but the work progressed slowly, owing to the fact that the workmen were obliged to keep the railroad tracks clear. A large amount of timber has been used in the repairs, which are temporary. The masonry will be replaced later.

SILVERITES' VICTORY

White Metal Men Capture the Kentucky Democratic Convention.

GREAT DAY FOR GEN. BLACKBURN

The Gold Men Outnumbered Three to One—The Names of Cleveland and Carlisle Greeted with Hoots and Yells.

Lexington, Ky., June 4.—Yesterday was a day of triumph for Senator Blackburn and the free silver element of the Blue Grass democracy. The white metal advocates outnumbered their opponents in the state convention three to one, but they were not disposed to be magnanimous and despite the pacific advice of Senator Blackburn, the gold men were shown scant courtesy. State chairman Charles R. Long called the convention to order at 1:40 in the afternoon in the auditorium of the Clatsauqua assembly building. It was a full convention, for instead of being 900 delegates there were nearly 1,200 within the enclosure set apart for them. Chairman Long was the first to experience the ill-will of the silverites. In closing his address, he said, "Grover Cleveland stands to-day as the equal in devotion to the best interests of our government and faithful service of any president that has preceded him and the country is indebted to the democratic party for his election, and I doubt not that the convention will give him their votes."

President's Name Hooted.

This was the signal for a scene. The silver delegates yelled and shouted and created such a disturbance that the chairman could scarcely proceed, and when he said: "John G. Carlisle stands before the American people as purest and ablest statesman," they drowned his voice with hoots and yells. Nominations for temporary chairman being in order John S. Rhea, for the silver men, presented the name of Charles J. Bronston for temporary chairman, and Col. Bennett H. Young, gold, nominated Judge Alex. P. Humphreys. He could scarcely be heard, and the chairman rebuked the delegates for their discourtesy. The vote, which shows the strength of silver in the convention, was: Bronston, 691; Humphreys, 206.

Blackburn's Grand Reception.

Mr. Bronston then addressed the convention, and after he had finished his address John S. Rhea, the noted free silver orator, was called for. He responded in a three-minute speech, counselling harmony. Then Senator Blackburn appeared on the platform. The delegates rose as one man, waved their hats, umbrellas, handkerchiefs, or whatever else they had handy, and cheered for several minutes before they would let him speak. The senator told of his years of service to the party, and said that while he had suffered much at the hands of democrats who opposed the policy he advocated, he bore them no ill-will and had no animosity against those who had fought him so bitterly. He counselled harmony and urged his enthusiastic friends to be generous in this, the hour of their victory, and unite with the opposition, but without surrendering any of the principles for which they fought so bravely. The convention then adjourned until to-day.

OFFICERS NOT A MINUTE TOO SOON

Both Men Disarmed and Sent To Their Homes in Custody—Trouble Started over a Private Discussion of Affairs in Cuba.

Madrid, June 4.—During a recent private discussion of affairs in Cuba between Gen. Martinez Campos, the predecessor of Gen. Weyler as captain-general of Cuba, and Gen. Borrero, the argument became so animated that the discussion developed into a hot quarrel and a duel was arranged. The matter was conducted with the greatest secrecy, but in some manner the authorities received information of the intended duel between the generals a few minutes before they were to meet on the Primo Rivera. The captain-general of Madrid proceeded with all haste to the spot, arriving just as the principals were being placed in position, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that he succeeded in stopping the affair before either of the combatants was wounded. Gens. Campos and Borrero were finally disarmed and went to their respective residences under arrest.

THE ENGLISH DERBY.

Surprise Still Expressed at the Victory Won by Persimmon.

London, June 4.—The crowd which witnessed the Prince of Wales' Persimmon win the Derby at Epsom Downs yesterday was the largest and one of the most notable that has ever attended England's greatest turf event. Many members of the nobility and quite a number of well known Americans were present. There was also a brilliant company of the elite of English society, many of the leaders of British politics, and the cream of the theatrical and artistic world. Surprise is still expressed in well informed sporting circles over the victory won by Persimmon, as the horse has been reported out of condition and totally unfit to run, but that story was proven groundless by the comparatively easy manner in which he beat Leopold de Rothschild's St. Frusquin, who sent H. E. Heddington's Earwig to third place. The time of the winner was 2:42. Just how much the betting public was affected by the report of the disability of Persimmon was visible in the betting ring just before the race, when the odds were 4 to 1 against him, 4 to 7 against St. Frusquin, 16 to 1 against both Teufel and Regret, and 33 to 1 each against Knight of the Thistle and Bradwardine.

WORK OF INCENDIARIES.

Flemington, N. J., June 4.—It is now known that the fire which destroyed all the outbuildings of Edward Cortelyou, a wealthy farmer living at North Neshanic station, yesterday afternoon, was started by incendiaries. Mr. Cortelyou succeeded in saving a quantity of machinery, but the heat soon drove him away. A valuable trotting horse and two cows perished. A young colored boy from the house of refuge was the only one about the building when the fire started. It is thought he knows something about it. He has been severely questioned, but denies knowing who the incendiaries were, or that he fired the premises.

HAD LITTLE SUPPORT

Five Senators Sustain President's Veto of River and Harbor Bill.

FIFTY-SIX VOTES CAST AGAINST IT

The Veto Power Characterized as a Relic of the Past—Senator Morgan's Resolution Arent the Competitor's Capture—Business in the House.

Washington, June 4.—The vote by which the senate yesterday afternoon followed the example of the house in passing the river and harbor bill over the president's veto stood 56 to 5, the negative votes being cast by democrats—Messrs. Bate of Tennessee, Chilton of Texas, Hill of New York, Smith of New Jersey and Vilas of Wisconsin. The debate preceding the vote lasted four hours. Speeches in favor of overriding the veto were made by Senators Vest, dem., Mo.; Sherman, rep., O.; Pettigrew, rep., S. D.; Berry, dem., Ark.; Stewart, pop., Nev.; Hawley, rep., Conn., and Butler, pop., N. C. Speeches in favor of sustaining the veto were made by Senators Smith, Vilas, Bata and Hill—the latter introducing a joint resolution to amend the constitution by giving the president power to veto any items in an appropriation bill—a power which the constitution of the state of New York gives to the governor of that state. Mr. Pettigrew's speech characterized the veto power as a relic of the past which had no place in a free government. He denounced the president in severe terms, charging him with an utter disregard of his sacred oath of office, with overriding the laws, influencing congressmen by the use of patronage, enriching his favorites at the public expense and, in fact, permitting no restraint but his imperial will. The senate to-day will again discuss the partial conference report on the naval appropriation bill, the point at issue being the number of battleships and the contract price for armor plate.

Morgan's Competitor Resolution.

The following is the text of the resolution introduced in the senate yesterday by Mr. Morgan: Resolved, That the senate, being informed by common rumor and by testimony taken by the committee on foreign relations, that a vessel of the United States called the Comet has been captured by a Spanish ship of war, and that one or more citizens of the United States were captured on board of said vessel, and have been tried and condemned to death by a military tribunal in Cuba, and are now in prison at Havana, awaiting the execution of the sentence. And the senate having instructed said committee to inquire into and make report respecting the rights of said citizens, under the treaties existing between the United States and Spain, and under the laws of nations, the president is requested, in conformity with section 2,001 of the revised statutes to inform the senate whether or not any such capture had been made by a Spanish warship and whether any citizen of the United States has been captured on or near such vessel, and has been unjustly deprived of his liberty by or under the authority of the government of Spain, and whether the president forthwith demanded of Spain the reasons for such imprisonment, and if such sentence to death violates the law of nations, or the treaties with Spain whether the president has demanded the release of such citizens; and that the president communicate to the senate all the facts and proceedings relative to such capture, sentence and imprisonment of such citizens, as soon as practicable, in accordance with the statutes in such cases made and provided.

House of Representatives.

The house to-day will probably dispose of the contested election case of Murray vs. Elliott from the Charleston, S. C., district. Elliott's election from that district has been contested three times—in the Fiftieth, Fifty-first and Fifty-fourth congresses. The contestant in this case was elected to the Fifty-third congress. The majority report of the committee in charge of the case recommends the seating of the contestant. The minority finds that Elliott is entitled to retain his seat. Quite a contest developed over the appropriation in the general deficiency bill to pay to victims of Ford's theatre disaster the amounts recommended by the congressional commission which investigated the claims. They were added to in the senate, and Mr. Sayers, dem., Tex., moved to strike out the names of several beneficiaries, the deaths of whose principals were asserted not to be due to the disaster, or who had not been injured in it, according to the report of the board of war department officials which investigated the matter. By a vote of 123 to 93 the house agreed to the motion, and these claims, if the senate agrees, will go back to the commission.

Passed by Massachusetts Legislature.

Boston, June 4.—In the house yesterday the bill appropriating $250,000 for furnishing the Bryant addition to the state house extension was passed to be engrossed. The bill to give veterans the preference in public appointments was also passed.

NIGHTFALL ON THE FARM.

Upon the porch at even
We two together stood,
And listened to the tinkle
Of sheep-bells in the wood.
The locust trees bent o'er us,
And white blossoms dropping down,
And, fringed with daisies, before us
The path lay bare and brown.
We heard the sheep-bells' music
Far off and dainty grow,
We saw the white flowers sprinkle
The lawn like flecks of snow;
The roses drew back shyly
Into the silent dark,
But though their haunts were shaded
Their perfume we could mark.

Up in a locust's branches
A little bird said "cheep!"
'Twas all that broke the silence;
The whole world seemed asleep.
"Good night," she said, "I love you!"
I said, "I did not speak."
But swift she leaped toward me
With tears upon her cheek.
—Philip L. Barker, in Chicago Record.

THREE TELEGRAPH STORIES.

Showing How Much Depends on the Railroad Operator.

One of Them Made Up for a Blunder by Saving the Limited — An Accident Where Accidents Were Deemed an Impossibility.

Said the telegrapher: "Jones was night operator at a town near Altoona, on the Pennsylvania railroad. He had lost a great deal of sleep and was very tired. The night wore along and trains were few. It was hard to keep awake. Finally the operator in the signal tower next to the west reported No. 4, the express, passing east. The track was clear and Jones pulled the white signal and waited for No. 4. He had almost fallen asleep when he was aroused by the roar of the train as No. 4 swept past the white signal. He saw the red lights at the rear of the train as she disappeared around the curve and he reported her to the operator at the signal tower next east and west. Then he waited to hear that she had passed the tower east. Three or four minutes was all it should have taken her to reach that tower, but he waited long after that and no word came to him. He called up Smith, the operator there, and asked him if No. 4 had passed. Smith said 'No.' They talked over the wire and concluded that she had broken down or been wrecked between the two towers.

"At about that time the train dispatcher called up and asked anxiously where No. 4 was. Jones said that she had passed his tower and Smith was sure that she had not passed him. Everybody was wide awake now, for the train was certainly lost, and a lost train is a serious thing on a railroad. The dispatcher thought that she might have slipped past without Smith seeing her, the towers all along the road beyond declared that she had not passed them. A freight going west was stopped at Jones' tower and the conductor was asked if he had seen No. 4 between the two towers. He said that there was no sign of her.

"Then the perspiration began to stand out on the operators and dispatchers. The track between the two towers lies along the river. A high stone wall supports it. The only possible explanation seemed to be that No. 4 had gone over the wall into the river. She could not have gone up into the air. Nearly an hour had passed. The river seemed the only place where she could be. The freight conductor received orders to uncouple his engine and run back slowly. He ran back past two towers, but could see nothing of No. 4 on the track or in the river. There was not even a displaced rail where she could have gone over the wall. Then he was ordered to run slowly west, to see how things looked there. About half way between Jones' tower and the one west of him the express was found, with a broken cylinder head. She had never passed Jones at all. Jones had dreamed it, although he declares to this day that he was wide awake all the time.

"Jones was in bad repute for a time, but he was not discharged, as he was a good man, and his mistake had not caused a wreck. He redeemed himself within a few weeks. By his presence of mind and quick action he saved the limited. That was an unusual case also. It was the train dispatcher's mistake, so far as I know, but he may have been misled by some one else's blunder. One day the limited was going east in two sections. It is very, very seldom that the limited runs in more than one section. A freight was lying in front of Jones' tower waiting for the limited to pass. The train dispatcher sent out an order saying: 'No. 4 (the limited) will run 40 minutes late.' That gave plenty of time for the freight to get to the next siding. The message should have read: 'Second No. 2 will run 40 minutes late.' The first section was on time. Jones handed the order to the conductor of the freight, who went down out of the tower and started his train on to the main track.

"Just as the big freight engine began puffing the telegraph instrument began ticking, and Jones read a report saying that the limited had passed the tower above. It was just around the curve, not a mile and a half away. It was a question of seconds. There was no time to run down the stairs, and it was no use to drop the red signal. The engine had already passed. There was no time to think. Jones grasped his ink bottle and his red flag. He ran out on the balcony in front of the tower and threw the ink bottle at the engine. Then he waved the red flag and yelled with all his might. The bottle struck the cab and attracted the engineer's attention. He looked up and saw Jones waving the red flag and yelling like a madman. Just at the same moment they both heard the shrill scream of the limited's whistle as she approached the curve.

"The engineer did not stop to question what it was. The engine was clear out on the main track. He reversed the engine and sent her bumping back against the heavy train. The forward motion was stopped, but the train was so heavy that it would not start back. About half the engine was still on the main track. The limited swung around the curve not half a mile away, coming at the rate of 40 miles an hour. The engineer of the freight showed wonderful coolness. He ran his engine forward several feet, so as to separate the first few cars as far as the draw-heads would allow, and give him a chance to get some momentum in his engine going back, and thus start the train. The plan is known to all engineers, but to deliberately start forward with the limited in sight took nerve. When he had gone a few feet he reversed again and sent the big engine bumping against the train, and she started back. Jones held his breath and watched. It was not a question of seconds now, but of parts of a second, whether the freight engine would clear the switch before the limited or not.

"The two engines seemed almost to melt together as the limited struck the switch, but the great train, with its precious burden, went by unharmed. The switch was open for the freight, but it was an automatic spring switch, and when the limited struck it it was forced open along the main line. As soon as the engineer of the limited saw he was safely past, he put on steam again, and the great train rolled on out of sight, without ever stopping to ask what had been the matter. The passengers, who were chatting pleasantly in the cars, may have wondered why there had been such a sudden jerk when the brakes went on just before they passed the tower, but they never dreamed of the danger they had escaped.

"A more serious case occurred at a tunnel on the Pan-Handle. It was a single-track tunnel, and the officers of the road had perfected a scheme by which they thought it was impossible for an accident to occur. A tower was erected at each end of the tunnel and the two towers were connected by wire. Every train was compelled to come to a stop and get orders from the operator before she could enter the tunnel. Neither operator was allowed to let a train enter the tunnel until he had called up the other operator and got from him assurance that the track was clear. Jones worked at one end and Smith at the other. Jones could not let a train go into the tunnel until Smith said so, and Smith could not let a train go in until Jones said so. The only way a wreck could occur was for each man to let a train go in at the same time. Even if both operators were to fall asleep at the same time the system would work, for the train conductors going into the towers for orders would awaken the operators.

"One night there was a terrible wreck in the tunnel. The trains had met head on. Several of the crews were badly injured, and I think two died. There was an investigation.

"The president of the road himself went to the scene of the wreck. The two operators were called before him. It was impossible to learn anything about the wreck. Each operator was sure the other had reported the track clear, and could give no explanation of the cause of the wreck. Then the president said:

"Now, boys, I will tell you what I will do. I feel sure you know how this happened. If you will tell me I will give you my word that neither of you will be discharged. I thought I had a system here that was absolutely safe, and it is of more importance to me to learn how the wreck occurred than to punish the one who was responsible. I must find out how it happened so that I can take care that it does not occur again. Tell me the truth, and I will give you my word that you will not lose your jobs.

"Then the two boys confessed. During the long nights they would become sleepy. Sometimes one would fall asleep. Then if a train came the other could not get an answer from him. One night Smith was sleeping soundly and Jones could not get any answer. He did not like to hold the train, for fear Smith would lose his job. So he let the train go through. He knew it was perfectly safe, for Smith could not let a train in without calling him up. When the train came out of the tunnel it awakened Smith, and Jones told him what he had done. Then they arranged a scheme so they could both sleep. They always kept the red block down, so that no train could enter the tunnel while they slept. If one called and received no answer he knew the other was asleep, and, therefore, the track must be clear, and he let the train in.

"One night both were sleeping as usual. A coal train came to Jones' end of the tunnel. The whistle of the train awakened Jones. He called to Smith and received no answer. So he knew Smith was sleeping and the tunnel was clear. He asked the conductor to throw him off a little coal for his fire, as he was entirely out. The conductor threw off two or three lumps and the train started into the tunnel. Those few lumps of coal cost the road thousands of dollars, and I believe they cost two men their lives.

"Jones went outside to pick up the coal as the train pulled out. Being out side the tower, the noise of the train drowned that of his instrument, and he did not hear Smith's call. A freight train had come to Smith's end of the tunnel at the exact moment that Jones was picking up the coal. As Smith did not get any answer he thought, of course, Jones was asleep and the track clear. So he let the freight in. Then the two trains came together in the tunnel.

"The president of the road kept his word with the boys, but he took them off that tunnel and gave them daylight jobs, where they were not so likely to sleep, and could not do so much damage if they did sleep. These are but three of the many stories like that have come under my personal observation."

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is ever where esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If affected with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

DAILY ARGUS.

C. MACARDELL, PUBLISHER. GEORGE H. THOMPSON, EDITOR. J. P. ROBINSON, CITY EDITOR. A. E. KIRKIN, BUSINESS MANAGER. THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1896.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democratic Electors of the several Assembly Districts of the State of New York are requested to send three delegates from each of the said districts to attend a State Convention, to be held at Saratoga, on the 24th day of June, 1896, at 12 m., for the purpose of selecting the number of delegates to which the State of New York is entitled in the National Democratic Convention, to be held at Chicago, on the 7th day of July next.

J. W. KIRKLEY, Chairman. JOHN CUNNEEN, Secretary.

ASSEMBLY DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The Democrats of the Second Assembly District of Orange County are requested to meet at the respective places at which the last town or ward caucuses were held, on Tuesday, June 10th, 1896, at 7 o'clock p. m., unless otherwise ordered by the town or ward committees, for the purpose of choosing delegates to represent them in a convention to be held in the Assembly Rooms, in the city of Middletown, on Saturday, June 20th, 1896, at 2 o'clock p. m., to elect delegates to the Democratic State Convention, to be held at Saratoga, on the 24th day of June, 1896, and to transact such other business as may come before the convention. By order of Assembly Committee.

W. H. CRANE, Chairman.

Every day fresh tales of wanton cruelty on the part of the Spanish in Cuba are published, the last one being of the cold-blooded butchering of forty sick and wounded Cubans in a hospital. It cannot be that these reports are pure inventions, and if there is even a grain of truth in them, they justify the intervention of the United States, or any other power.

In 1894, when a candidate for reelection to Congress, McKinley wrote to the Farmers' Alliance of Stark county, one of the counties in his district: "I am in favor of the use of all the silver product of the United States for money as circulating medium. I would have silver and gold coin." His views have changed, he has made a public declaration of the fact.

Mark Hanna thinks the anti-Platt Republicans who jumped on the McKinley band wagon as soon as they saw that it led the procession are entirely too bumpkins, and has warned them to make less noise. He says that only harm can come from further drawing of factional lines, and insists that support of McKinley shall not be made a pretext for factional warfare for the gratification of personal enmities or the advancement of personal ambitions.

In many of the counties of the State new Richmonds are in the Republican field prepared to lead the fight against the Platt machine; but in Orange county not one of those who hate Platt with a bitterness that passeth words dares to try conclusions with doughty Ben Odell. Tom Bradley, who might be expected to lead the revolt, cannot be braced up to the fighting point, and thinks he has done more than was expected of him when he bolted Morton to vote for McKinley and more protection to his cutlery shop.

A man from Ohio, an over-night guest at the Russell House, offered this morning, to wager a hundred dollars even that the next President of the United States would be a free silverite, and, strange to say, he didn't mean McKinley; in fact, he said that individual "ain't in it." His betting confidence is based upon the Chicago convention nominating a candidate pledged to unlimited coinage of the white metal, in which event, he declares, Ohio, Indiana, other Western States, and all the Southern States will go Democratic. That the man really meant business, and was more than ready to bet, there can be no question.

Although some Republicans papers have much to say about the depressed condition of the cotton manufacturing business under Democratic tariff, the facts do not bear out the statements made. For instance, at Charlotte, N. C., three new mills have just been completed and two more are to be completed by fall, (making twelve in the town) and to accommodate the business needs of these mills a national bank is to be established there with a capital of $200,000. Capital would not be put into new mills and into a bank for the transaction of the mills' business if the cotton manufacturing business was in a state of collapse and faced nothing but gloom.

The Chicago Tribune, the leading Republican paper of the west, which is fighting a good fight against free silver, finds it necessary to tell the truth concerning the Sherman silver purchase act, and says: "It was worse than a cowardly makeshift. It was a shameful trade. It was the costly price paid to Teller and his fellow silverites to secure the passage of the costly tariff bill of 1890. The Teller and Jones stripe of Senators refused to let the McKinley bill pass the Senate unless the other Republican Senators would pass the Sherman amendment, which was almost as bad as free coinage. And it brought on the country the disastrous money panic of 1893." This is the truth of history, and in the event of Republican success this fall, history will repeat itself. The attitude of the free silver Senators is the same now that it was in 1890. They blocked tariff legislation during the present session openly declaring that there should be no more protection unless the "rights" of silver were recognized. Their position will be the same next year, and in their eagerness to re-enact a high tariff law Republican Representatives and Senators will be no more scrupulous than they were six years ago, and will yield to the demands of the silver freebooters for part of the swag, and give the country high tariff with a free silver attachment.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS' PLATFORM.

Favors Free Silver Coinage at 16 to 1 and Instructs the Delegates for Blackburn.

Lexington, June 4.—The platform as agreed on by the Committee on Resolutions favors bimetallism and to that end demands the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at a ratio of sixteen to one with equal legal tender power, independently of the action of any other nation. It holds that the treasury should redeem coin obligations in gold or silver as convenient; opposes the issue of bonds in time of peace; opposes national banks; opposes the retirement of the greenbacks or any other contraction of the currency; demands a tariff for revenue only; opposes organizations which proscrib citizens for their religious beliefs; condemns the calling out of the military by the Governor during the senatorial canvass; declares every nominee entitled to the undivided support of the party; instructs the delegates to Chicago to vote for Senator Blackburn for president and use all honorable means to secure his nomination. The names of Cleveland and Carlisle are not mentioned.

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this: "In September, 1894, I made a mistake and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards,

I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My

WILLIAM KIRBY INSTANTLY KILLED

Struck by the Orange County Express While Driving Across the Erie Tracks at Harding Street—Thrown Fifty Feet—Both Horses Killed and Wagon Wrecked.

William Kirby, a well known farmer of the town of Wallkill, while driving across the Erie tracks at Harding street, shortly after 7 o'clock, this morning, was struck and instantly killed by the Orange County Express. His body was thrown a distance of fifty feet and was found lying between the tracks. His skull was crushed and his legs and several ribs were broken.

The horses were thrown on the opposite side of the train, down the embankment. One of them collided with a telegraph pole and died instantly. The other had its right foreleg broken off at the ankle and it was necessary to kill it in order to put it out of its misery. The wagon was completely demolished and the load of feed was scattered along the tracks for a distance of many feet.

Mr. Kirby had delivered his milk at Mr. D. W. Berry's creamery and had driven to Mr. A. M. Horton's feed store on Hamford street, where he had purchased a quantity of feed. He had then started down through Harding street, as was his usual custom, for the purpose of taking Miss Rowe out to the Pine-Knott school house, where she is engaged as teacher.

Engineer Levi Linby was in charge of the Orange County Express and after the accident he stopped the train and backed up to the scene. Mr. Kirby's body was picked up and carried to Harding street and Coroner Becker and Undertaker Rockafellow were notified.

No one in the vicinity could be found, who was an actual eye-witness of the accident. The crossing is a very dangerous one. It is impossible for any one driving down the hill to see the tracks for more than a hundred feet each way, as the railroad curves through a deep cut at that point and the crossing is only used by those who had it absolutely necessary to cross there and is shunned by careful pedestrians.

Mr. Kirby was a son of Noah Kirby and Catharine Van Ness and was born sixty-seven years ago in the town of Wallkill, near what is known as Kirby-town, several miles west of this city. He had resided on a farm all his life. He was never married. He is survived by a brother, Garrett, a sister, Mrs. Catharine E. Osborn, and a step-brother, Gilbert, all of whom made their home with him;
also by a step-brother, Charles K. Kirby, of Wawayanda, and a sister, Mrs. Jane K. Price, wife of John M. Price, of this city.

The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock,
Saturday morning, from his late residence. Interment in the family plot on the old homestead farm.

Consistory.

Mr. J. H. Moses, acting Grand Inspector General of the Grand Consistory of the State of New York, visited Union Consistory, last night, and delivered a very able address, which was listened to by a large number of Scottish Rite Masons. After the exercises at the lodge rooms the Masons adjourned to Paul's hotel, where a fine supper was served.

It was expected that other grand officers would be present, but they were un-

Talk of Widening King Street.

A project is on foot to widen King street about ten feet. While it may not be a bad thing to do there are many other improvements that should be made first.

HYMENEAL.

Van Ness—Terry.
From our Amity Correspondent.

The residence of Mr. James Terry, of Amity, was the scene of a very pleasant event, Wednesday afternoon. The occasion was a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. James H. Terry in honor of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Kate to Fred Van Ness.

The ceremony took place at 1 o'clock in the presence of about 125 relatives and friends, and was performed by Rev.
R. H. Craig.

The bride was dressed in a gown of drab colored cloth trimmed with lace and ribbons.

The house was decorated with evergreens and cut flowers.

After the wedding dinner the newly made bride and groom were driven to Warwick, where they took a train for New York for a short wedding tour, after which, it is understood, they will return to Amity, where they will make their home. Both of these young people have a large circle of friends, all of whom will unite with the writer in wishing for them a most happy and prosperous future.

Kortright—Cox.

Correspondence Amity and Mendeny.

A pretty and interesting wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. W.
Clark, of Pleasant Ridge, near Westtown, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The parties were Mr. George Denton Kort-right, of Mount Hope, and Miss Frances Emma Cox, of Norwalk, Ohio. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Luther Littell, of Mount Hope, assisted by Rev.
R. H. Taylor, of Westtown, in the presence of about forty relatives and friends.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. C. F. Walling, nee Miss Minnie Clark. The bride and groom were preceded by the bridesmaids and groomsmen.

The bride was becomingly attired in pale peonia mauve silk, trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of laurel blossoms and ferns. Miss Clark wore pink silk and Miss Cudney light blue or-gandie and each carried a bouquet of roses and daisies. The bridal party stood under a wreath of myrtle and white roses.

After congratulations, a fine wedding dinner was served, the dining room being prettily trimmed in laurel, daisies and ferns. The afternoon was spent in music and other amusements and in the evening, amid a shower of rice and old shoes, the happy couple went to the home the groom had already prepared for his bride, who is an estimable young lady and was the recipient of many pretty and useful presents.

A BUSY GRAND JURY.

Many Important Cases Before It.—Several Raines' Law Complaints.

A great deal of business is being brought before the Grand Jury in attendance on the present term of court.

The most important case before the jury is that of Martha Whitaker, of Port Jervis, charged with poisoning her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Snyder.

There are several complaints against liquor dealers who are charged with violating the provisions of the Raines' law and there seems to be an earnest purpose on the part of the complainants to have the law strictly enforced.

Wallkill Academy Examinations.

After the explanation had been made she pondered the matter for a moment, then a light came into her eyes and she said with a satisfied sigh: "Well, mamma, if God ever takes you to be with Him, I'll ask papa to marry Aunt Sally, and save us children the trouble of getting acquainted with a stranger."—N. When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she became a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A Note From the Editor.

The editor of a leading paper writes: "If you had seen my wife last June and were to see her to-day you would not believe she was the same woman. Then she was broken down by nervous debility and suffered terribly from constipation and sick headache. Bacon's Celery King for the nerves made her a well woman in one month." John J. Chambers, 57 North street, near Post Office.

A Baby's Life saved.

ADDISON, N. Y., April 8, 1894.—"I feel it my duty to write you in regard to my little daughter's sickness from teething and indigestion. She is seven months old. Two of the best physicians gave her up. One bottle of Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion relieved her so much that we tried Dr. Hand's Colic Cure also, and at once saw a chance for the better. These remedies saved my baby's life.—Mrs. Wellington Brown." Dr. Hand's Colic Cure and Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion sold by all druggists, 25c.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured.

L. Wagner, Wholesale Druggist, Richmond, Va., says: "I had a fearful attack of sciatic rheumatism, was laid up almost two months; was fortunate enough to get MYSTICURE for RHEUMATISM. This cured me after a doctor's prescription had failed to have any effect. I have also heard of fine results from others who have used it." Sold by J. E. Mills, Druggist, No. 3 Empire Block, North street, Middletown, N. Y.

Are Your Hands Chapped?

If so go to any drug store and ask for a free sample of Liquid Fracton, a new preparation for chapped hands. Large bottles 25c.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Large bottles 50 cents and $1. Go at once. Delays are dangerous.

A Short Cut to Health.

To try to cure constipation by taking pills is like going round in a circle. You will never reach the point sought, but only get back to the starting point. A perfect natural laxative is Bacon's Celery King, the celebrated remedy for all nerve, blood, stomach, liver and kidney diseases. It regulates the bowels.

J. J. Chambers, 57 North street, near Post Office.

Young mothers dread the Summer months on account of the great mortality among children caused by bowel troubles. Perfect safety may be assured those who keep on hand DeWitt's Colic & Cholera cure, and administer promptly. For cramps, bilious colic, dysentery and diarrhea, it affords instant relief. W. D. Olney.

Moffat's Pills are truly the woman's best friend, because they cure all female obstructions and general weakness. Try them.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Verdict for the O. and W. in the Morris Case—The Jury Says Farmer Shot Didn't Water His Milk—Other Cases—Mrs. Whitaker Not Likely to Be Indicted for Poisoning Her Parents.

GOSHEN, June 3.—The trial of the slander suit of Dr. Alfred L. Brown vs. A. C. Wakeman was resumed, this afternoon. The first witness was William H. Flagg, a broker living in New York city. During 1895 he stopped at Cornwall. At the Elmer House in that village, in August, he had a conversation with Mr. Elmer and Mr. Wakeman. It seems that the defendant had said some naughty things about Dr. Brown's relations with a woman, but the attorneys were unable to work out much in the way of evidence in the first half hour of the witness' time on the stand. Mr. Flagg's memory of events and of the wording of the alleged slanders was very poor. Mr. Wakeman, he said, had said a lot of derogatory statements made by Mr. Elmer concerning Dr. Brown.

Dr. Brown was called but there was nothing brought out by his testimony and the plaintiff rested.

Mr. Hirschberg called Mr. Wakeman in depositions without opening the case. Thereafter, Dr. Brown with women patients was the subject of the alleged slander and Mr. Wakeman denied everything which he was alleged to have said.

Mr. Elmer, the other party to the conversation, was next called. He also did a lot of promissory saying and corroborated Mr. Wakeman.

Mr. Flagg was called in rebuttal and the case closed. This was certainly a disappointment as there was not as much interest as there was in the testimony of the women doctors in the Morris case. This jury went out at 2:30 o'clock and this was the third jury out considering cases. The verdict, as all expected, was no cause of action.

A jury was then taken in No. 88, Eliza Bull against Hiram J. Books-keeper.

The plaintiff asked for judgment for $80, not due. The court directed a judgment for the amount on the pleadings.

Case No. 79, Charles H. Farman against Frank M. Foote, was next called. Farman is a resident of Middletown and had loaned $100 to Mr. Kane to pay Mr. Foote, a suit owned by Kane to Foote. Foote became responsible to Farman. This case should really have been brought in some justice's court and occupied a justice of the peace's attention for a few moments. The verdict was for $80.

The jury in the adulterated milk case, against Jan S. K. Short, came into court with a verdict for defendant. This was somewhat a surprise to the auditors.

An inquiry was taken in the case of the Strong Organ Company against Anna Van Fleet and a judgment for $293 was rendered.

Then came the case of Alfred Neale, arrested against Daniel Woodcock, as general manager for some time insurance agent. The story of this case seems to be briefly this: Neale is an insurance agent at Goshen. He had a man named Williamson on his list or insured. Williamson owed him money. Neale secured judgment and had himself appointed receiver. There was a loss on the property of the insured and Mr. Neale wanted to apply the money to his judgment or collect more.

THIS MORNING'S PROCEEDINGS.

The case of Neale vs. Woodcock was continued, this morning. The case has resolved itself into a question of law. The facts are hardly contradicted except in a few minor and unimportant details. There were a few legal points to be settled, this morning, and the court and the attorneys devoted some little time in that way. At the end of the case both lawyers moved for a verdict. The court took the papers in the case and will give its decision later.

The case of Isaac Banker against the Postal Telegraph Company was the next called. Mr. Banker is a farmer of the town of Goshen, residing between Goshen and Chester. On his farm along the roadside are several shade trees. The Telegraph Company cut many limbs from them in order to erect its poles. Mr. Banker asks damages in the amount of $500. His attorney is A. H. P. Seeger, Esq., of Newburgh. The company is represented by C. F. Dryer, of White Plains.

The case was on when the court adjourned for the noon recess.

RAILROAD WINS IN THE MORRIS CASE.

The jury in the case of Morris against the N. Y. O. and W. Railway Co. came into court when a verdict was rendered in favor of the railroad. It is very strange that it was so.

The jury was out nearly twenty-eight hours. They sought a discharge when court met this morning, but the judge thought they ought to try to reach some conclusion and would not let them go. About 10 o'clock, this morning, they were called out to dinner, and the next morning they came back and rendered a verdict.

It was reported, last night, that the jury stood out for a verdict for plaintiff and then for no verdict, and this morning the rumor was in the air that they stood out to come in favor of plaintiff. The result would be that the railroad managers were very much in a hurry that one man brought eleven obstinate jurors to the way of thinking.

This case has attracted more interest and attention than any case tried in this county in some time, and as hour after hour passed without the jury being heard from interest in the result deepened and intensified.

The case was tried for all it was worth on both sides. It had been most carefully prepared and every bit of evidence that bore upon the questions at issue was presented in the best possible form.

The plaintiff's case was much weakened by the testimony of Drs. Barrus and Clark who examined her, under order of court, to ascertain the exact nature of the injuries, if any, which she had sustained.

The costs in the case are heavy. There was one mistrial, the jury failing to agree, and the case went to the Court of Appeals on appeal from the verdict of $3,500 rendered at the second trial and was sent back for a new trial.

The attorneys were W. F. O'Neill and M. H. Hirschberg for plaintiff and William Vanname for defendant.

THE GRAND JURY AND MRS. WHITAKER.

It was thought that the Grand Jury would finish the Whitaker case, yesterday morning, but yesterday afternoon many witnesses in the case were recalled and it is presumed from this that the jury hesitates a trifle about indicting her.

I saw Mrs. Whitaker in her quarters in Goshen Jail, yesterday. She appeared to be in good spirits and there seems to be no change in her general appearance from the time she first came. She has been deprived of the freedom of the hall, which was her's until a week ago, and is now confined in her cell. When she decides to receive visitors she is permitted to come into the hall. She told me, yesterday, several interesting incidents of prison life, which may make material for a future chapter.

"They" are saying that Mrs. Whitaker will not be indicted at this time. If she is not it will not be the fault of the "People." It is said that already there have been two votes on the matter both against finding a true bill. It can be safely said that Mrs. Whitaker will not be indicted by this Grand Jury.

FOR THE ASYLUM BASE BALL CLUB.

The Entertainment to be Given by the Thalia Club, Next Monday Evening.

The ladies and gentlemen of the Thalia Club have arranged a very pleasing dramatic entertainment, which will be given at the State Hospital on the evening of Monday, June 8th. Three brief, one-act plays of a bright and sparkling character will be shown. A good orchestra will be provided and a most enjoyable evening may be anticipated. The trolley will convey people to and from the hospital grounds, which will be suitably lighted on the evening of the entertainment. Tickets may be obtained at H. S. Dusenberry & Son's, on North street, where reserved seats may be secured by those desiring them. The proceeds of the entertainment will form the nucleus of a fund to be used in providing base ball during this season.

RAINES LAW HOTELS.

Second Hand and Cheap Bed Room Furniture in Demand for Their Furnishings.

The furnishing of Raine's law hotels in this city and vicinity was a bonanza to dealers in second hand furniture for it is said that everything in the way of bedsteads, bedding, etc., that they had in their stores was eagerly bought up.

This source of supply exhausted, the would-be hotel keepers had to roll back on the furniture stores, where they bought the cheapest grades of bedroom furniture.

Evidently the lodgers at these improvised hotels will find their quarters anything but sumptuous but since "hotels" exist under the present law for the quenching of Sunday thirsts, the furnishings of bedrooms required by law are a matter of little moment.

JUST, IF NOT IN LEGAL FORM.

An Intelligent Jury's Verdict in a Bicycle Case.

J. H. Hubner, while bicycling, ran into and broke Jennie O'Neill's bicycle at Highland Falls. The wheel cost $70, but she said to recover $150 damages. The jury gave this verdict: "We find the defendant must put the wheel in as good condition as it was before the accident, or replace it with a new wheel equally as good."

The Justice said this wouldn't do, that they must render a verdict for a definite amount, and they then deliberated for fifteen minutes and returned a verdict for $25.

A Reward for the Burner of John I. Bradley's Barn.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has offered a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of the "fire bug" who is supposed to have set fire to the barn of Supervisor John I. Bradley, on the night of April 30th.

A WARM AND DRY MAY.

Notes on the Weather Conditions That Prevailed Last Month.

J. T. Probert, weather observer at Paterson, where conditions are practically the same as here, summarizes his notes on May weather as follows:

The month was remarkable for its high temperature. The range was from 41° to 98°. It gave a mean of 66.9°, which has not been approached for May in many years. If we take the Newark records for the month of May it will be found to have been reached once in the last fifty years, namely in May, 1889, when the high mean of 68.4° was attained. The next warmest was in 1887, when 65.3° was reached. There were 9 cloudless days last month, 11 fair days, and 11 cloudy or overcast the whole day. Rain fell upon 11 days, in amount only 3.78 inches, which was 1.15 inch short of the normal rainfall, which is 4.90 on a fifteen years' average. There were 7 thunder showers during the month.

THE FIRE PARADE.

Board of Engineers and Company Officers Select Oct. 8th as the Date for the Great Event.

The Board of Engineers and the officers of the several fire companies of the Middletown Fire Department met, last evening, in Excelsior's truck house to discuss the subject of a fire parade this fall. It was unanimously decided to hold the parade on the afternoon of Thursday, October 8th, also to hold an evening parade on the preceding day.

The companies will now extend invitations to friends from other cities to be their guests on the occasion. The parade promises to be a large and successful one.

VERY APPRECIATIVE WORDS.

Praise from a Source That Makes It Praise Indeed.

From the Newburgh Journal.

A handsome new dress of type greatly improves the appearance of the Middletown Amers, one of the best newspapers of Old Orange. The Amers will fill its field. It shows enterprise in the collection of news and presents in a compact, readable form. Its discussion of public questions is marked by ability and vigor. It is gratifying to note this evidence of prosperity. May the Amers continue to thrive.

The "Boogie Man's" Easy Job.

Truant Officer Joseph Penny finds the duties of his office growing lighter each month. The delinquents have learned that they must attend school or the "boogie man" will find them out. As a rule the youngsters dread the idea of a transfer to the truant school, and as a result the attendance at all the schools has reached a better average than it has in years.

A Correction.

The Amers is requested to correct a statement that a servant of Mrs. Thos. Fallon had disappeared with Mrs. Fallon's jewelry. The Amers got its information from a source that was supposed to be thoroughly reliable and published it in perfect good faith. It may not be generally known, but there is a law making a severe penalty for giving false information to newspaper reporters.

Deekertown's First Fire Parade.

Deekertown held its first fire parade, last Saturday. It was witnessed by a crowd of at least 2,000 people and this in spite of the fact that rain was falling most of the afternoon. The only visiting company was Kintatimny Hose Co., of Newton.

State His Employer's Horse and Wagon.

Marcus Cornell, a seventeen year old boy who was reared by Peter A. Smith, of Branchville, Sussex county, on Tuesday night, stole Mr. Smith's horse, wagon and harness. The boy had evidently repented of his crime for a searching party sent out round him coming home with the stolen rig. He began to cry as soon as he saw Mr. Smith.

It is not probable that Mr. Smith will prosecute the boy.
